Course description

Race will be held on the course with five different special stages in total length of approximately 35 km and about 1250 meters of height gain/loss. Stages will run on the trails around Grožnjan. They are mostly on dirt with some rock sections, more or less in the woods with some open sections offering stunning views. Stages are fast, while the transfers are held on gravel road.

Start and finish of the race will be held in Grožnjan town, as well as the feeding zone offering some drinks and food for the riders.

Exact course with course map will be published on Thursday October 10.

Kenda SuperStage will be held at Enduro Grožnjan. Organizers will decide which stage is the most special one which will be remembered by riders the most. That stage will be “Kenda SuperStage”. Fastest rider on that stage will be awarded by Kenda.

Which stage is it, will be announced together with the course details.

How to get there

The easiest and almost only way to get to Grožnjan is from Buje. The way from Buje is properly marked with road signalization all the way. Main race venue will be in Grožnjan town square on the town entrance itself, next to the Church.

Race office, timing crew and informations will be present in the hall next to the town square, easy to find. A starting point for each transfer to reach the top of the stages will be held on the parking lot at the town entrance.

Grožnjan has four parking lots. The best way for the riders is to use the one at the top, next to the graveyard, where also prologue start will be held. This parking has a lot of space and it's easy for the riders to make the comfortable during the weekend.

Safety gear

Safety gear is mandatory according to SloEnduro rules. On stages there is mandatory to use: full-face helmet, knee protectors and full-finger gloves. Back protector and elbow protectors are highly advised as well.

On transfer riders can ride with normal XC helmet. All protection must be well fitted during the stages, while on transfers riders are not obligated to use it, except for the helmet.

For U15 categories a back protector or a backpack with a reinforced backbone is mandatory!

Training on course

Race course will be announced on Thursday before the race. After race course announcement training on the course will be possible as well. To protect local peace and nature, any use of motorized shuttle or e-bike is forbidden for training purposes. So training is only allowed with use of rider's own power.
